OPPORTUNITIES IN OKLAHOMA.

What pluck and industry can do in the way of making money in Oklahoma has been demonstrated by L. D. Majors, formerly of Ryan, who now lives at Chickasha. Mr. Majors came from Texas to Oklahoma several years ago. He turned his attention to cattle raising chiefly and as a result he now owns in fee 7,000 acres of land. This land for the most part is located in Jefferson county. What Mr. Majors has done is a fair illustration of the opportunities for wealth that Oklahoma offers.

CONTINUED GROWTH ASSURED.

In the news columns of today's paper some reliable information on the railroad proposition that confronts the city is given. The statements made are conservative and they reveal the fact that there is no cause for any discouragement on the part of the citizenship of this city. There will be nothing done that will interfere with the continued rapid growth of the city. That does not mean that there is no work for the Chamber of Commerce to do. That body of active men have a great responsibility resting upon them but it is very clear that there is a way out of the dilemma and the seeming unfavorable conditions can be turned to the advantage of this city.

BACK TO THE FARM.

The high prices that have prevailed this fall on all agricultural products will do more in favor of the "back to the farm" movement than all the preaching could have ever accomplished. There have been broom corn crops and there have been cotton crops in Oklahoma this year that have netted a sum that will pay from a half to two-thirds of the cost of the farm products were grown upon. Under such conditions the farm is the most profitable investment in the state. Under the present regime the prices farmers can be prosperous and they will bend their energies to planting more acreage and to cultivating better. In addition to that there will be many people in the towns who will get out on the farms. This will give the merchant a big business in farm implements, it will give a better demand for all kinds of farm animals and will make trade brisk in a number of lines.

BUILD ANOTHER MONUMENT.

The Dallas Fair has unveiled a monument in honor of Sydney Smith, who served so long as the secretary of the fair and who did so much to build it into a great institution. Since the Texas Exposition has reached that point where it has a profit at the end of each fair season the management should not forget its greatest benefactor—the Dallas Morning News. The morning paper in Dallas reaches out over the territory that patronizes the fair. It goes into almost every home in this prosperous area of country and in season and out of season it has worked untiringly for the success of the venture. The Dallas News worked just as hard when the fair was a burden as it works now when it carries for its own expense. It is the greatest factor in building the fair and is the greatest factor in building Dallas. It would be fitting that a monument be built in Fair Park commemorating the work done by that paper.

GEORGIA'S PIGS.

Let's try to get over the habit of thinking of the Georgia pig as a peaky razorback. Of course there are a lot of those pigs that are built for speed rather than comfort, but the boys of that state have done such good work in raising the right type at a low cost that it's about time the state that has helped them do it gets some credit too.

There are about 20,000 boys down in Georgia who belong to pig clubs, corn clubs and four-crop clubs. Most of them are interested in pigs, and the results they have obtained will make the boys in Iowa and Illinois and Indiana rub their eyes.

The total profits from the hog in these states are almost too big even for a boy's imagination, but the Georgia boys have made the highest profits per pig, something that is easy to get hold of. They also lead in having the lowest cost of production. These boys in the Southern states made $20.77 profit on each pig, counting in those sold for breeders. The cost of gain was 25 cents a pound.

The number of boys now engaged in this work makes the results dependable. There is now no question about the adaptability of Georgia and the rest of the South to profitable hog raising by the old boys as well as the young ones who have been leading the way.

The razorback will soon be a goner. —Country Gentleman.

Edison Week October 16-21.

More than 1,000,000 people are employed in the various industries founded by Thomas A. Edison. In the United States alone over 600,000 men and women earned their livelihood in vocations created by Edison's genius. For a number of years a group of these industries has observed October 21st, the anniversary of Mr. Edison's invention of the electric light. This year the week of October 16th-21st will be observed throughout the United States and Canada as Edison week. The light and power companies will manifest their recognition of the fact that Mr. Edison is the founder of their industry, and thousands of other men and women who make their living by virtue of Edison's inventions will play their part in this unusual demonstration.

Among the many things planned for the celebration of Edison week is a $1,000 prize contest arranged by associates of the inventor, his contest had its origin in a remark of Mr. Edison made last spring to one of his assistants.

Music is Mr. Edison's hobby. His intimates and associates are aware that of the thousand or more inventions which he has developed, the phonograph is his favorite. He has always contended that there is no reason why a phonograph could not be made which would reproduce musical sounds so perfectly that the mechanical reproduction would be exactly like the original music, in fact, so exactly like it as to be indistinguishable from the original. For years Mr. Edison has stated that when he got time he would develop such a phonograph. Scientists generally scoffed at this idea, and even his own laboratory assistants, with the exception of two or three who have been with Mr. Edison so long that they believe nothing is impossible, were inclined to think that the perfect phonograph was a thing that could never be.

Several years ago, having completed his work on the storage battery, Mr. Edison decided that he would try to develop a means of recording and reproducing sound which would make the reproduction indistinguishable from the original. It proved to be the longest and most costly research work ever undertaken by Mr. Edison. He spent nearly $2,000,000 in experiments alone, and these experiments were not completed until March of this year. When the new invention and new record were perfected, Mr. Edison said, "Now we shall find out what we have. Rent Carnegie Hall, New York City, and get Madame Rappold of the Metropolitan Opera to go over there. Have her stand beside the new phonograph and sing in actual comparison with our records of her voice. Invite the music critics and the music lovers of New York City. Get the most critical audience you can possibly get. If I have succeeded in doing what I set out to do, they won't be able to tell Madame Rappold's voice from the phonograph's reproduction of her voice."

While Mr. Edison's associates believed that he had produced a wonderful invention, they doubted whether in a place like Carnegie Hall, before an audience of critical musicians it would sustain the acid test of a direct comparison of this kind.

The test was made on April 28th before an audience of 2,500 people, and just as Mr. Edison had prophesied, it proved impossible to distinguish Madame Rappold's voice from Edison's reproduction of it. Next day the New York papers were enthusiastic in their praise of Edison's new invention. The New York Tribune said: "Edison has snared the soul of music." The Globe referred to it as "the phonograph with a soul." One writer stated that Edison had developed a new art—Music's Re-Creation.

Mr. Edison's associates remembering this remark decided to get the opinions of non-expert and non-technical people. Without Mr. Edison's knowledge they arranged through the City Drug Store of this city, and merchants of several other cities, to place a number of these new instruments in various homes and get the untechnical opinions of typical American families.

To stimulate interest in the matter $1,000 in prizes are offered for the best opinions. This contest occurs during Edison Week. The first prize is $500, the second $200, and the third $100. Then there is a Consolation Contest with prizes aggregating $200. It is proposed to print the prize winning opinions in a booklet and present it to Mr. Edison as a souvenir of Edison Week. Opinions which do not win prizes, but which are nevertheless considered worthy of publication, will be purchased at 10 cents per word. No opinion is to exceed 200 words in length. Literary excellence will not be considered. Professional writers and all persons connected with the phonograph industry are barred from the competition, as it is desired to obtain only untechnical opinions.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Ardmore, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but not permanently. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is proof of merit from this vicinity.

Z. N. Harris, butcher, Madill, Okla., says: "My back pained terribly and I was constantly bothered by too frequent action of my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me at once. My kidney's became normal and the aching in my back left me."

Over three years later, Mr. Harris said: "The benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills has been permanent."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harris has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Two Senators Live in Texarkana.

Texarkana, Ark., Oct. 16.—After December first, Texarkana, situated on the state line of Texas and Arkansas, will have distinction of being the residence of two United States senators, each one being from a different state. The persons making this unusual condition are Morris Sheppard, junior senator from Texas, who has fixed in Texarkana all his life, and the newly-appointed Senator Kirby, who was named by Governor Hays to succeed the late Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas.

Three other cities—New York, Concord, N. H., and Denver, Colo.,—have the distinction of being residences of the two senators from their respective states, but Texarkana is the only city in the United States where United States senators from two states live.

How Catarrh is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucous membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

Daylight Train Service Only.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 16.—Passengers arriving here from Mexico City report that so numerous are bandit activities between Mexico City and San Louis Potosi that only daylight train service is maintained and that all passengers as well as freight trains are preceded by a pilot train, running one mile ahead of regular trains, and carrying troops to any possible contingent of bandits and if possible prevent blowing up of trains.

When You Take Cold.

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy, as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opium or other narcotic. Obtainable everywhere.

Mexico Has Wireless Stations.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 16.—The telegraph system of Mexico includes fully a half dozen up-to-date wireless outfits. Among the cities having such apparatus are Vera Cruz, Rincon, Antonio, on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, Saltillo, Monterey, Torreon and Guaymas, in Sonora state.

Portable wireless outfits exist at several other cities, including Monterey and Juarez. The wireless set at Mexico City, which is the highest powered of all, is located on the Castle of Chapultepec, the home of the president.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The season is here and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HERBINE is the right remedy. It answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by Ringer Drug Co.
